Dear Mr. Moyers,

Hello! I hope that this letter finds you doing well enjoying the arrival of summer. I am an independent filmmaker and wanted to see if it is possible to be on your show in early September of 2008. It's quite difficult for an independent filmmaker to get any exposure for films that are critical and worthy of political discussion in the U.S. I'm wondering if we can have a short talk on your show about my film Considering Democracy: 8 Things to Ask Your Representative.

What is the film about? I wanted to find out what the rest of the world thought of the U.S. as well as how the U.S. compares to other industrial democracies, so I cashed out my educational retirement and left the U.S. to go find out. The film is structured into 8 main sections that become interwoven by the end of the film. Considering Democracy won the John Michaels award at the Big Muddy Film Festival this year. I just finished a small tour in the Southern part of the United States and after screening the film, people time and time again said, "You should get on Bill Moyer's show. Why don't you do that?" People really like the film because it goes over issues that are rarely covered in the U.S. media, yet the information is delivered in a way that doesn't make people depressed. It's really an uplifting, engaging political documentary that everyone needs to see before the elections.

Considering Democracy seeks to get more information and rationality based discussion in the United States on issues that affect all Americans. It seeks to engage Americans to be active participants and drive the debate as we approach the elections. I don't have an agent, but I would like to be on your show and thought I would ask. Please have your people email or write my P.O. Box and I will respond post haste. Thank you for your time.

Sincerely,

Keya Lea Horiuchi

P.S. There's lots of information on the website <http://consideringdemocracy.com>. If you go to the Downloads page, then go to Supreme Court digs, you'll find rather interesting Supreme Court cases that examine corporate personhood. I find them fascinating and am trying to upload another Supreme Court case once a week. Good fun. Thanks!
